PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I can honestly say that our show was a success.

I would like to thank all the club members who helped put it on, displayed their bonsai, helped with the beginners workshop, and performed a myriad of tasks to make everything run smoothly. This was our 30th show and I look forward to many more.

I was also happy to see that our newest members ponied-up to the challenge and presented outstanding bonsai displays featuring all the classical elements of bonsai, dai, and accent plant placement. Knowing this is an important aspect of mastering the art of bonsai.

Our demonstrator for June will be Bob Pressler, owner of Kimura Bonsai Nursery. He is a very talented bonsai artist and having operated a bonsai nursery, will have many informative tips for keeping our trees growing and healthy. Please come support him and our club for this event.

The Golden State Bonsai Federation (GSBF) 38th annual convention will be coming to Riverside October 29th through November 1st, and will be held in the new Riverside Convention Center. GSBF conventions are a great way to increase your knowledge and understanding of bonsai. Participating in the workshops is a great way to acquire good material for your collection. GSBF has just launched a consolidated Facebook page www.facebook.com/gsbforg to spread the word about GSBF programs and benefits of membership. Check it out and keep informed!

"When you choose pieces for a display, you need to listen to yourself. You could be in a room full of ten teachers, and each one will have their own opinion. You should select pieces that speak to you."

SHOWING OFF

At our April meeting, club co-founder, Leila Kusumi shared her years of experience, offering tips to best display a show tree. Perfect timing with our Annual DIBK show coming up.

Using material brought in by our club members, Leila went through the various options and gave insight as to what to aim for when creating a harmonious display.

She discussed various aspects of creating displays such as tree and dai (table/stand) selection, size and form, color consideration and composition.

"This would be a good pairing by itself, but if you are using this as an accent, the table is too tall. Your accent dai should never be the same height as your main dai."

"Although this is a very nice dai, the pot is too tall for the stand. It takes too much focus off of the overall display. The color also does not complement the pot."

"This accent planting is also a nice pairing with this dai, but you need to choose accents that complement the tree, not just because it looks nice."

"This would be a good combination if the accent dai were larger and not so feminine. The hard edges of the main dai, and pot, do not go well with soft rounded corners of this accent dai."

"For it's size, this is a very heavy dai because it is so tall. While it is very pretty, for a harmonious display, the main tree would have to be a very tall tree if you use this as an accent dai."

The Art of Display

A very well written and informative article by Al Keppler. In it, he covers scrolls, trees, dai selection as well as accent plants and arrangement.

"While a beautiful tree, the trunk is too small for the heaviness of this dai and this pot together."

(at right)

"This combination is better — it keeps the focus and scale to an ideal ratio between this tree, this pot, and this dai."

Getting Ready for a Bonsai Show

Here's a great article written by Bill Valavanis about preparing accent displays. He discusses a neat idea using customized, painted cork board to create the perfect accent dai.

30TH ANNUAL DIBK BONSAI SHOW AND SALE

Saturday morning, the first day of the show brought an early turn-out, as people waited patiently for the show and sale to open to the public. Once the sale opened, the early birds swooped in hoping to get the best deals on a variety of bonsai and pre-bonsai stock offered.

The exhibit was carefully orchestrated to showcase a variety of different styles of bonsai, on all artist levels. The reception to the exhibit was very positive, and club members, as well as friends and supporters of the club, lent their very best trees, offering them in harmonious displays of art.

The public was excited to participate in the beginner's bonsai workshop led by experienced and talented bonsai students and artists. Participants got the chance to learn bonsai basics and create their own Juniper Nana bonsai. People either experience these workshops as a fun way to spend the morning, or a first step into a lifelong passion for bonsai. The latter is why the club continues to carry on this show tradition.

We were then treated to a round robin demonstration with Mel Ikeda, Robert King, Alan Sugimura and Kevin Sweeney. The group all worked effortlessly through the demonstration, creating beautiful bonsai out of raw nursery stock. After the demo, all trees were placed into the Saturday raffle, and many lucky people went home with great material.

Later in the day, the attendees were further encouraged to network and enjoy a great meal at the show reception and dinner. The selection of food was varied and all incredibly delicious thanks to everyone that contributed a dish to the feast. Seconds were a must!

After dinner service, the attendees were treated to the magical stylings of Magician William Yamane, who graciously donated his entertainment services to the club. William is member of the Magic Castle in Hollywood, as well as a Vice President for the Society of American Magicians. While he didn't see any people (or trees) in half, William did dazzle the audience with some impressive card tricks and other sleight of hand magic.

Sunday brought us another great demonstration with Frank Goya.

Assisted by Jaime Chavarria, Frank showed the attendees what it takes to create a three-tree Juniper saikei. In addition to the Junipers, the beautiful tray landscape consisted of Tufa rock (hardscape), Irodium and dwarf mondo grass (accent), and moss cultivated by Frank himself. Also assisting Frank with microphone duty was John van de Wouw and Kei Ikari.

Frank then donated the finished saikei, and another smaller saikei, to the Sunday raffle. Lucky winners were Jason Saito and Judy Unrine.

In all, it was a great weekend that gave the general public, as well as club members, a chance to interact and learn about the art of bonsai as well as the opportunity to own some great material.
